WHO I AM

I'm Federico Ghelli. I'm 26 and I come from Rome. I will attempt to become the youngest Italian to ever hike the whole 3525km (2190 miles) of the Appalachian Trail, from Georgia to Maine. In case of success, I will also be the first Italian to do it solo.

Six years ago, I moved to the United States with the goal of earning a college degree and play soccer.

From there I had the luck to enter one of the most prestigious schools of journalism in the country and earn a Master's degree.

All these life experiences shaped the man I am now, giving me the vision of striving for success in all my endeavors. I learned to work hard and prove my worth, hoping that one day my dedication will take me to reach my biggest dreams.

THE APPALACHIAN TRAIL

THE STORY

The Appalachian National Scenic Trail, generally known as the Appalachian Trail or simply the A.T., is a marked hiking trail in the Eastern United States extending between Springer Mountain in Georgia and Mount Katahdin in Maine.

The trail is estimated around 2,200 miles (3,500 km)[a] long, though the exact length changes over time as parts are modified or rerouted.

It passes through 14 states: Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine.

▶ THE ADVENTURE

Start: April 3rd

After a careful research on the history of the Appalachian Trail, I noticed a factor that would make my adventure even more unique and appealing. In fact, I am the youngest Italian to hike the Trail, and in case of success I would also be the first Italian solo and the third in total.

I will be alone on the trail, but I hope to be able to bring with me a following of fans who will "walk" with me until the very end, so we'll be able to say that we managed together to reach our goal.
